Condition Report for River Cruiser Golden Dawn

Having taken a good look over her while out of the water at Loddon.
For a wooden yacht of 1932 she is in extremely well cared for condition.
Her bilge is clean and her keel bolt nuts look sound.
Her mast and running rigging is all in good order and obviously kept up to date.

Her present owner has had her for over 25 years and has kept on top of her annual maintenance.
In fact two sections of planking where being replaced in the port bow area. I could see the timbers and frames were sound to refix to.

The topsides were well painted and her bottom suitably antifouled. The deck covering is in good order too. All the varnish work is sound.
I would recommend that your get full details from the Owner of the name and brand of the paint and antifoul being used on her and continue with the same products.

There is an outboard motor is good working order.

Overall a comfortable family cruising yacht.

Should you require any further information, please contact me.

Yours faithfully
